My Strengths:
- I am a well-organized individual.
- I am able to work in any environment
- I am a personable and friendly individual

These are qualities I believe teachers need. Lack of organization may lead to poor lesson planning. Being able to work in any environment is essential because as a teacher, you are put in so many different situations. Having a personable and friendly quality is great for getting to know colleagues, parents, and students.

My Areas for Professional Growth:
- Technology
Plan For Professional Growth

Area for Growth: Demonstrates Implementation of Technology
Standard # 9                      Date: November 13, 2001

Actions-What I will do and the assistance I will need:

- Take a few outside computer courses
- Ask for help when help is needed in education computer lab
- Read articles and/or books to inform me of better ways of integrating technology into lesson plans.

Assessment procedures:
- Final grade in course
- Being able to perform tasks without any help
- Ask professor if my lesson plan is appropriate for including technology
