Plan for Professional Growth

Area for Growth; Addressing different learning styles

Objectives:

- I want to learn and know more about different and new strategies and teaching methods that will make my teaching more effective and to assure that all the students are receiving the proper teaching that suits their learning style.
- I want to know about the recent researches that discussed this issue and the result and new teaching methods that been designed to handle it.

Strategies:

- I plan to attend different subjects classes, and to have discussions with teachers who might have experience in this issues.
- I am planning to examine my students individually and try the new methods, and keep track of the students’ improvement, so I can make a decision at the end of which is the best suit for my students?
- I plan to keep records of all the different new ideas I get and try to generate some strategies and new methods.

Assessment:

- I will make records of all the different effective strategies and methods that I have used with samples of students work, to notice the progress that students achieved.
- I will design rubrics and checklist to assure that I am going in the right way concerning my purpose
